

CRASH KILLS MAN ON HWY. 35

A stolen car driven by Gerald Bannon of Haliburton, has resulted in the death of one man and Bannon and two companions being confined in the hospital with severe injuries due to a highway accident on Thursday last.

From what we can learn it would appear Bannon rented a car from a rental company stating that he was selling books. When after two weeks the car or driver did not return the company began to enquire as to his whereabouts. They phoned the police and other citizens asking if they could enlighten them as to whether Bannon had been in the area, but no one seemed to have seen him.

The police were notified that the company regarded the vehicle as stolen and though a search of the area was made, Bannon failed to show up.

Prior to the accident a truck driver said he noticed a car similar to the one now a mass of wreckage, being driven in such a manner that he figured the driver was just an accident going some place to happen.

Shortly after this the car grazed a vehicle driven by William Finlay of Fontheil and then plowed into a car driven by Barry Reynolds of West Flamboro, killing him instantly.

Bannon and his two companions, Anthony and Bernard Baczkowski, members of an orchestra playing at Medley's, received severe injuries. Anthony Baczkowski is reported to have a broken back, and his brother suffered a fractured jaw and severe concussion.

Bannon, who faces charges of car theft and criminal negligence, has a fractured right ankle.

The accident happened on Highway 35 about five miles above Minden and it marks the second highway fatality in Haliburton county so far this year.

We have it on good authority that the Baczkowski Brothers, who reside in McKeesport, Penna., were unaware that the car in which they were riding was stolen.

Ambulances from Minden and Haliburton were rushed to the scene of the accident and transported the injured men to the hospital.

Both cars were termed as total wrecks by those who were at the scene of the accident and some said it was a marvel that any one of the passengers came out alive.

WE'RE SORRY . . .

We have been receiving a large amount of requests for issues of the Echo which contained the first three instalments of the articles entitled "In Quest of Yesterday," by Mrs. Nila Reynolds.

This history of the County of Haliburton we felt would create considerable interest but we were not prepared for anything like the demand for copies that we have experienced during the last few weeks and despite the fact that we ran over 50 extra papers than normally, these did not begin to meet the demand.

As much as we would like to do so we are unable to supply issues of the Echo dated July 7, 14 and 21.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Magistrate's court was held on Thursday, August 26 in the county building, Magistrate Moore presiding.

Allan Pierce of Stratfordville, who failed to appear in court, was found guilty of failing to stop before entering Highway 35 at the Minden by-pass. He was fined $10 plus $4 costs.

Edward N. Scott, 36, of Wilberforce, pleaded not guilty of careless driving resulting from a charge laid on July 30 when the accused was driving a car which rolled over on Highway 500 just east of Gooderham. Const. George Mountstevens, a witness to the accident, claimed the car left the highway, traveled some distance in the ditch, climbed onto the highway again, rolled onto its side and slid along brushing the door handles off the left side, then turned over and came to rest on the right side. Scott was found guilty and fined $50 plus $24 costs.

Leslie E. Crisp, 20, of Toronto, pleaded not guilty to careless driving.

On August 2, O.P.P. officer Elwood Foster was proceeding south on the river road into Minden when he met two cars speeding in a 30 m.p.h. zone. He turned and gave chase and found the two cars parked at cabins near the portage bridge. The accused was found guilty of

Minden Rotary Plan Look-Out

At a recent meeting of the Minden Rotary club it was announced that the Dept. of Highways are considering building a look-out similar to Haliburton's Skyline Park.

We understand it will be located on the high mountain back of the Hydro building, better known to Minden residents as "Pike's Peak."

speeding and was fined $28 plus $12 costs.

Morris Roberts of Wilberforce pleaded not guilty of driving while his ability to drive was impaired by liquor.

On August 4 Const. Mountstevens received a complaint of a car being driven erratically down the main street of Haliburton. Following the car he was able to stop it on the Donald road near the Chateau Woodland. The driver of the car, Mr. Roberts, was quite belligerent and in the ensuing scuffle tore the sleeve from the officer's shirt. He was found guilty and fined $50 plus $24 costs.

Lambert Hulluvain of Toronto pleaded guilty of careless driving when on August 2 his car failed to make a turn on the north Kashagawigamog road, traveled 100 feet in the ditch and was finally stopped when it hit a tree. Carl Voisma, also of Toronto, a passenger in the car, received severe facial lacerations. He was fined $25 plus $15 costs.

Court was adjourned until September 22.

Girl Seriously Injured Jumping From Truck

A 19 year old girl from R.R. 1, Carleton Place, who has been employed at Deer Lodge for the summer, met with a serious accident last Thursday night.

The injured girl, Lila Chamney, attended the theatre in Haliburton on the night of the accident accompanied by three other girls from the lodge.

They were hitch-hiking back to Deer lodge summer resort when a truck from Peterboro picked them up in front of the Highland restaurant one mile west of Haliburton. The driver told them he was going to Minden and to jump on the back of the truck.

When they arrived at the Slipper turn on Highway 121

the truck kept on going. Miss Chamney, noting that the truck was not stopping at the Slipper cut-off to allow them to walk into Deer lodge, immediately jumped from the back of the truck onto the pavement.

Besides having minor cuts and bruises it appeared that she was badly injured and was rushed to the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay.

From there she was taken to the Toronto General Hospital. She received a fractured skull and was operated on for a brain injury. According to the last report received the injured girl is on the serious list.

O.P.P. officer Geo. Mountstevens of Haliburton investigated the accident.

Police Kept Busy In Haliburton Area

O.P.P. officer George Mountstevens of the Haliburton detachment is to be congratulated on the good work he has been doing since coming to Haliburton.

Just for one example we learned this morning that he has recovered five stolen cars and made five arrests for car theft in the last seven weeks.

Induction Service September 8

The induction service of the Rev. G. D. Petrie as minister of the Haliburton charge of the United Church of Canada, will be held on Thursday evening, September 8 in the United church in Haliburton.

Officials of the Lindsay presbytery who are conducting the service will be present, including the chairman, Rev. J. Newton Reed, B.A., B.D., of Sunderland and the secretary, Rev. Roy E. Vessey, B.A., B.D., of Woodville

Gooderham Man Crashes In Fog

A bad accident happened on Tuesday last at 1 a.m. when a truck driven by Murray Hunter of Gooderham ran into a 10-foot bank about a quarter mile from Elephant Lake Lodge.

Due to a heavy fog it was very hard to see the highway and when he came to a sharp corner, instead of making the turn, the truck went straight on smashing into the embankment.

The driver of the truck, Murray Hunter, was very groggy when he got out of the cab.

He made his way to Elephant Lake lodge, owned by Harold Kennedy, who immediately drove Hunter to a cottage nearby.

The Haliburton ambulance was called out at 6 a.m. when he seemed to be feeling worse. The injured man was brought into the Haliburton Red Cross hospital.

At the last report it was learned that he suffered a broken jaw.

ROBERT BISHOP JR.

of Haliburton has been elected as the new president of the Minden Kinsmen Club. Bob, who has been in the club ever since they received their charter, has been a hard worker in all Kinsmen activities.

The following is a list of officers for the coming year: Vice president, Norm Harrison; treasurer, Deac Jackson; past president, Eldon Deacon; secretary, Len Lonsberry; registrar, Doug Pritchard, and bulletin editor, Don Nye.

HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER . . .

Our streets have been somewhat quiet this week, but given any kind of good weather, we expect to have a record number of holiday guests during this week end.

Construction of another new home started in the village this week when work was commenced on the home for Mr. and Mrs. Creighton Feir. The new building is on the same street as the new Baptist church, in fact only one lot separates the two buildings. Builders of the new home are Roy LeBoutillier and Vic Gauthier. Building has taken quite a spurt locally in the last few weeks and a lot more construction would start if more money was available as well as suitable building lots.

Quite a number from here took advantage of the chartered bus trip to the Canadian National Exhibition on Wednesday. The trips which are sponsored by the Algar Coach Lines, seem to become more popular every year. Two busses were required to take the passengers this year and even then some of those who were late in seeking reservations had to stay at home. Those that took in the trip did not arrive home until 4.30 the next morning. All report a wonderful time.

Highway 35 received some great publicity last week due to a write up in the Toronto Daily Star by Pierre Berton who is considered by many to be Canada's most famous newspaper columnist. Mr. Berton really gave Highway 35 some good publicity and we must take off our hats to Dave and Peggy Edwards of Ogopogo Lodge who apparently made Mr. Burton's visit to the Highlands of Haliburton a most enjoyable one.

We learn the Haliburton curling club are going to enlarge the curling rink which will give them four sheets of ice. Last year the club conducted some most successful bonspiels but were somewhat hampered by the fact that they were compelled to operate on three sheets of ice only.

The fall season is here and the Haliburton Legion Band are to resume practices next Tuesday night. While the band is faced with the fact that some of its members are forced to seek work or further their education elsewhere, bandmaster George Wheeler is starting a beginner's class which he hopes will fill the gaps left by those leaving.

BANK OF MONTREAL REPORTS—

"Consumer behaviour" in the months ahead will probably have the largest effect on economic trends of 1960, according to the Bank of Montreal's Business Review for August, just issued.

So far this year, the business scene in Canada seems to have been "one of unusually conflicting cross currents with little if any over all expansion," the review says, in discussing the recent past and short-term future of the nation's business.

"Although export trade has been at not unsatisfactory levels, slackness in consumer and capital spending has led to some falling off in industrial production and employment and in personal and corporate earnings," the bank says.

Large Inventories

For the future, there are good grounds for expecting the pace of capital expenditure to quicken, the bank believes. But "it is open to question whether there will be any marked upturn in output and employment generally until business has disposed of some of the inventory it has accumulated, to some extent involuntarily."

Mixed Trends

So far this year, business trends have been "exceptionally mixed," some rising and others leveling off or falling, the bank says. In addition, different industries and different companies in the same industry have experienced unusually diverse tendencies in sales and production.

A similar picture is apparent in the figures for retail sales. While housing starts for the first six months were 35% lower than in the same period of 1959, total housing expenditures in the first quarter were running well above the forecast for the year as a whole.

Further, while exports have declined in recent months, they have averaged 8% more than a year earlier, but imports have risen by much less, so that there has been a further narrowing in the merchandise trade deficit.

Concluding, the B of M review says, "Apart from inventory policy pursued by business, it is the average consumer who has played the largest role in shaping economic trends this year so far, and the turn such trends will take in the months ahead may well hinge largely on consumer behaviour."

DRINKING AND DRIVING DO NOT MIX

Fine whisky is a luxury and should be treated as such. And, knowing when to say "no" plays a great part in the art of sensible living.

Neither whisky nor any other alcoholic beverage has any place at the wheel of an automobile. Drinking and driving do not mix.

This conviction must be shared by every thinking person who drives a car, particularly this Labour Day week-end when many holidaying families will be travelling on Ontario highways.

If you expect to be at the wheel of a car this week-end, we say to you: Think before you drink. Don't drink before you drive.

SCHOOL HEALTH REPORT

Next week approximately 2,000 children in Haliburton county will be going back to school—many entering for the first time. A large number must travel long distances and carry lunches, so the school lunch is a major concern to a great many mothers.

The main problem is to provide the proper food and at the same time have a variety. Most mothers these days are aware of the foods necessary for good health. (Copies of Canada's food rules may be secured at the office of the public health nurse.)

Mothers, why not try a few new ideas to liven up the appetites? School lunches offer an opportunity to teach children to eat and enjoy everything, therefore a great variety is essential. Many grownups won't eat salads because they weren't taught to at school age. Salads should become an accepted part of the menu during the stages of youth. They can be made of fruit, vegetables, nuts and cheese. Beware of fish, meat and poultry on hot days as they do not keep well.

Salads packed in cardboard cartons such as are used for freezing foods, go to school without spilling and keep their attractive appearance. The only sameness permitted in salads is thoroughly washed lettuce. The salads and dressing should vary from day to day. Waldorf salad is best when the pieces of apple, raw celery and nuts are mixed with mayonnaise. Cole slaw into which chopped raw carrots and seedless raisins have been stirred, tastes fine with French dressing (just vinegar, olive oil, salt and pepper). A boiled dressing is good for stuffed tomato salad no matter what stuffing is used. An orange, banana and shredded coconut salad will not need dressing if the orange is juicy enough.

For variety in sandwiches try a few of these fillings for hot weather:

1. Grated carrots, cabbage and raisins, salad dressing on brown bread.
2. Peanut butter, shredded carrots, cabbage, salad dressing on brown bread.
3. Cream cheese, dates, salad dressing.
4. Cheese, chopped apple, salad dressing.
5. Cheese, marmalade, salad dressing.
6. Cheese, honey, nuts.

In vacuum bottle for cool drinks try cold milk, tomato juice, grape juice or lemonade.

Nutrition surveys show that many children have too generous amounts of pie, cake, candy, etc. There is evidence that excessive use of sweet foods helps promote tooth decay and also dulls the appetite and the child does not eat enough protective foods that are necessary for growth and health.

For between meal snacks, pie, cakes, candy, soft drinks, etc., should be replaced with refreshing fruits, fruit juices, raw vegetables or milk. Fresh fruit should be used frequently for mealtime desserts.

Let us grow the healthiest children in Ontario.

IN QUEST OF YESTERDAY

A HISTORY OF HALIBURTON

by NILA REYNOLDS

(Copyrighted)
Ninth Installment
Chapter 5
THE ROMANCE OF THE RAILWAY

Two factors have influenced the progress of Haliburton county and the village of Haliburton—the Canadian Land and Emigration Co. and the railway. Without the financial backing of the first, the second would have proved impossible. Too little has been written or remembered about the influence of what the old timers called "the English land company." Its failure to pay financial dividends (other than the three shillings paid to shareholders near the start of the venture) has obscured the chief reason for its non success which happened because the greater portion of all money received from the sale of land and the considerable revenue from the sale of timber cutting rights in the nine townships, was channeled back into the development of the area.

Prior to the establishment of the Municipality of Dysart et al, excepting for the main colonization roads, such as the Peterson which was handled in the 1860's by the Bureau of Agriculture and the commissioner of Crown Lands, all bridges and road construction in the nine townships were financed by the emigration company. As soon as possible after the inception of Haliburton village in 1864, the road linking it with the Kennaway settlement was built.

Contrary to popular belief, the village at Haliburton was not the emigration company's first colonization venture. Reliable sources assert that in 1860 the emigration company brought out a substantial number of English settlers via the Burleigh road which in 1860 could have been little more than a surveyed trail since it was not officially completed until 1871.

The first settlement was called Kennaway and was situated on the north shores of Elephant Lake where the waters of the York branch of the Madawaska provided power for the company built grist mill and saw mill.

The conscientious company also provided a doctor to care for the health of the settlers. It is said that they encountered difficulties enticing him to remain in the wilderness.

A letter received in the emigration company's office in London from one of these Kennaway settlers in the early 1860's confidently enthuses, "Anybody who is not hopelessly lazy can make a good living here." The first crops justified his optimism for the terrain in Harcourt township, especially that lying west of the York branch of the Madawaska, seemed more adapted to farming than some of the more rugged townships cleft more extensively by the Laurentian hills. This rich blanket of humus built up by centuries of forest cover proved so productive that for several years the crops were exceptionally good.

However, the enemy of all light land, erosion, began to take its toll; the fertility of the soil gradually died and with it Kennaway's future as an agricultural centre.

Most of its hopeful immigrants moved on to greener pastures, in some cases the recently opened townships of Dysart, Dudley, Harburn and Guilford.

It has been suggested that the settlement at Kennaway was named for Sir John Kennaway who in 1854 with Chief Justice Haliburton, baronet, became interested in an advertisement which the government of Upper Canada placed in a London newspaper which announced land in the district of Haliburton "for sale for colonization purposes." Together Kennaway and Haliburton organized the original emigration company and negotiated to buy the 10 townships from the Crown.

Now for the ground "where angels fear to tread." Existing sources of information, including the official ones, claim that Haliburton county and the village were named in honor of Judge Thomas Chandler Haliburton of literary fame who helped organize the emigration company. A new source advises that it was a cousin of the judge's, Chief Justice Haliburton, who with Sir John Kennaway conceived the company and that the county and village were named for the father of this chief justice, a Lord Haliburton, who was lieutenant governor of Upper Canada.

The possibility that a mistake was made somewhere in the distant past is intriguing. The only evidence to support the claim of Lord Haliburton which the writer has been able to unearth to date is found in a 1951 meeting of the Minden Women's Institute of February 17, when Mrs. McElwain gave an outline of Haliburton county's history from which the following is extracted: "The county was named for a visit from Lord Haliburton." The Encyclopedia Britannica lists Thomas Chandler Haliburton as a judge, there is no mention of a title.

One fact is certain, should the existing claim for him prove false, no one would have been better equipped to appreciate the delicious irony of such an historical error than that master of "soft sawder" and student of human nature, Thomas Chandler Haliburton.

When the youthful Municipality of Dysart et al assumed responsibility for its roads, the main transportation arteries were the Peterson and the south shore road from Minden to Haliburton which branched off the Bobcaygeon road.

The old Ilman road to West Guilford which was built by the Mossom Boyd logging company to gain egress from their timber limits did not follow the present route of Highway 530 but wound over hill and dale like the trail of an indecisive snake until it joined the Harburn road above the Evergreen cemetery.

The Harburn road was built originally by the Boyd & Irwin Lumber Co. to their limits on Haliburton Lake. The first road to Eagle Lake also branched off the Harburn road north of the cemetery and east of the present Highway 519 which was constructed in 1934 at a cost of $150,000.

These early thoroughfares were cared for by pathmasters and statute labor. Pine cut from the road allowances was thriftily disposed of to the lumber firms operating in the area. For road construction purposes the municipality was partitioned into 14 divisions, one of which is described in the municipality's by-law No. 13 as extending from the town plot of Haliburton to the north pole.

As early as the 1860's, the more progressive minded residents of what is now the Provisional County of Haliburton, saw that before the doors of prosperity could be unlocked a magic key in the form of a rapid transportation system must be provided to link the county with the rest of Ontario.

Haliburton must have a railway!

Pleas to the officials of Peterboro county for financial assistance and the right to levy taxes for the project met with indifference. Here is an account published in a periodical of 1898 which sheds some light on events 20 years earlier. It was kindly provided by a daughter of the famous Dr. C. D. Curry who served the residents of Haliburton county from 1869 until shortly before his death in 1905.

"The Provisional County of Haliburton was brought into existence for the purpose of enabling the more important and better settled group of townships embraced within its limits to join with the Canadian Land and Emigration Co. to bonus the 'Victoria Railway' (now included in the Grand Trunk System) then proposed to be built from Lindsay, to the land of the Canadian Land & Emigration Co., which in the year 1861 they had secured the title of, from the Ontario government, under the stipulation that the company would populate those lands, known as the English land company's nine townships, with English emigrants, but they are not after the expiration of nearly half a century, three of those townships fully settled.

"The name given to the new county (Haliburton) was that of the first chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Land and Emigration Co., a Judge Haliburton, whose literary cognomen was 'Sam Slick'; this name (Haliburton) was also given to the village which was then the headquarters of the company for the management of their lands, but the head office was in London.

"At the village of Haliburton in the township of Dysart, where the local managers resided, the company built on the water power at the point, a saw and grist mill for the benefit and convenience of both themselves and the incoming settlers; here also sprung up quite a thriving village, which for beauty of location and scenery could scarcely be surpassed, but the failure of the company to induce settlers to come in there on their stipulated terms, prevented the development of the place to the extent that might reasonably have been expected.

"Hard times having set in, the population decreased instead of increasing, the mills having been destroyed by fire, business was for some years very similar to the population, but fortunately things have taken a change for the better and at the present time (1898) a manufacturing boom has set in, business has revived correspondingly and it is to be hoped that the energy of the present population will make up for the inactivity of the company and that Haliburton will soon become an established manufacturing centre."

The first by-law of the Municipality of Dysart et al to authorize the sale of debentures was No. 43 passed in 1869 which empowered the issue of debentures for $25,000 at 6% interest which was to be a bonus for the proposed Peterboro to Haliburton railway. When this scheme did not materialize further the by-law was repealed in 1872.

The next plan was for a railway intended to connect Lindsay to Whitney and Magnetawan with Haliburton a station on this line but by 1875 the rails had advanced only 23.4 miles to Kinmount. Here it stalled until further funds were forthcoming from the government.

Many sacrifices were made in order to bring the railway to Haliburton county. Farmers, struggling to wrest a living from their rocky acres, assumed a heavy burden of taxation to finance the project. Businessmen travelled all over the settled areas preaching in its behalf and made trips to Peterboro and Toronto to lobby for the project with the "powers that be."

However the greatest sacrifice of all, in those days the supreme sacrifice, was made by Samuel Stanley Peck, erstwhile reeve of Snowdon and justice of the peace.

In the days when the common man held three things sacred, his church, the Orange lodge and his political convictions (all too often the latter took precedence over the first two), he changed his politics! The Tweedsmuir county history, compiled with loving care by the Minden Women's Institute, which reposes in the Minden library, records the dire deed. Expediency (that great enemy of statesmen and number one tool of politicians) or even justice was never supposed to extinguish the light of party loyalty which was tended by those early Haliburton voters like the vestal flame.

Samuel Stanley Peck traced his descent from Capt. James Peck, who prior to the American Revolution when he fought for the defeated British, operated a ferry over the Hudson River between New York and New Jersey at a location which is still known as "Peck's Slip." Following the Revolution, Peck as a United Empire Loyalist, evacuated to Nova Scotia but finally settled in Ameliasburg township in Upper Canada. His second son, also James, married and the resulting family of nine included Samuel Stanley Peck born in 1829. Samuel was educated at a country school on his father's farm and in 1857 married Sarah Ann Harder and moved to Peterboro where he kept an art store.

Lured by the call of the wilderness which combined opportunity and cheap land, S. S. Peck and his brother Francis moved in 1860 to Snowdon township where S. S. Peck became very active in municipal and community affairs. Snowdon's first school erected on lot 30, concession A, was known as "Peck's," and was taught by Miss M. A. Peck.

During the days of Conservative John Sanderfield MacDonald's coalition government which began in 1867, S. S. Peck maintained his Conservative convictions but when the Oliver Mowat Liberal administration swept Ontario in 1871, S. S. Peck saw the advantages of changing his political beliefs and by playing his political cards right was appointed stipendiary magistrate for Haliburton. He used his influence to promote the proposed railway and further the establishment of the County of Haliburton. When the provisional county was organized in 1874 he became the first county clerk. During the provincial election of 1879 his Haliburton friends, some of them strong Conservatives, gave him staunch support and he was elected to the provincial legislative assembly at Toronto as the member for Victoria riding.

During this campaign, when he ran on the Liberal ticket, his opponents printed caricatures of S. S. Peck with the riddle caption "Why is the Hon. Oliver Mowat like the Witch of Endor?"

The answer was a classic example of election wit, "Because he raised Samuel."

During the next political campaign Peck villainized Sir John A. MacDonald and offered some of the coalition supporters who then worked twice as hard to effect his defeat.

Politics in those days, on all levels, was a "no holds barred, knock down and drag out" business. A real education in its operation on local levels can be obtained by reading the minutes of the county council's early sessions which were, to say the least, stormy.

His defeat may have rankled, for in 1882 S. S. Peck retired from the field and moved with his family to Dakota. He later settled in California, but a son, William Stanley, who remained in Dakota, visited Minden village in recent years.

Although S. S. Peck died in California in 1901, his achievements during his residence in Haliburton county should not soon be forgotten. In the twilight of his life he proved that those who travel may change their skies but not their loves when, just before he died, he was heard to remark nostalgically, "My heart is still in Minden."

Full county privileges were never granted Haliburton, which had annexed three townships from Victoria and 20 from Peterboro. For provincial and dominion elective purposes it remains part of Victoria riding and the administration of justice on higher levels is vested in the County of Victoria to whom Haliburton pays an annual sum. However, since its inception, the provisional county has possessed a county council, a registrar, a stipendiary magistrate and a division court judge. County auditors appointed in March 1875 were Fred J. Shrove and Chas. A. Wastell. They were replaced in 1882 by Robert Groom and Michael Brown who also filled the post of county treasurer for 46 years.

At this time the rivalry which was to blight the relations between Minden and Haliburton for more years than either village could afford arose over which was to become the county town. Each settlement jockeyed frantically for the position which the Ontario government eventually awarded to Minden. There on June 18, 1874 the first county council held its inaugural session with the following Reeves in attendance: Alexander Niven from the Municipality of Dysart et al; James Langton representing the Township of Snowdon; William Hartle of the Municipality of Lutterworth, Anson and Hindon; Philip Harding of Glamorgan, Monmouth and Cardiff; John R. Calvert of Snowdon and Joseph Beatty from the Municipality of Stanhope and Sherbourne. Their first act on that memorable day was to elect Alexander Niven warden of the county while S. S. Peck was appointed county clerk and treasurer.

At a county council meeting held July 2, 1874, a by-law was passed granting aid to the Victoria Railway to the amount of $55,000 which was to be raised by direct taxation.

When this controversial by-law was submitted to the people for endorsement, a majority in its favor was obtained by the votes of the following ratepayers: Daniel McFarlane, A. MacDonald, Leonard Palmer, Wm. Martin, Geo. S. Thompson, Geo. Casson, Michael Brown, Wm. Heard, Richard Bateson, J. W. Holland, Wm. McClughan, Samuel McClughan, Robt. Pockett, James Murray, Thos. Vauxhall... the difference between skimping and saving!

THERE'S NO SKIMPING ON PLEASURE

That's the big difference with Vauxhall — it has the total visibility of wraparound windows — Ball-Race steering to help you into that tight parking space — a low centre of gravity to give you a wonderful feeling of steady, smooth control over the roughest roads.

NO SKIMPING ON COMFORT

NO SKIMPING ON FEATURES

There's not enough space to list them all but here are a few to tantalize you . . . A Canadian-size heater designed for the frostiest winters . . . two-speed electric windshield wipers . . . top quality rustproofing body dip for years of wear and "just new" good looks.

SAVE AS YOU DRIVE

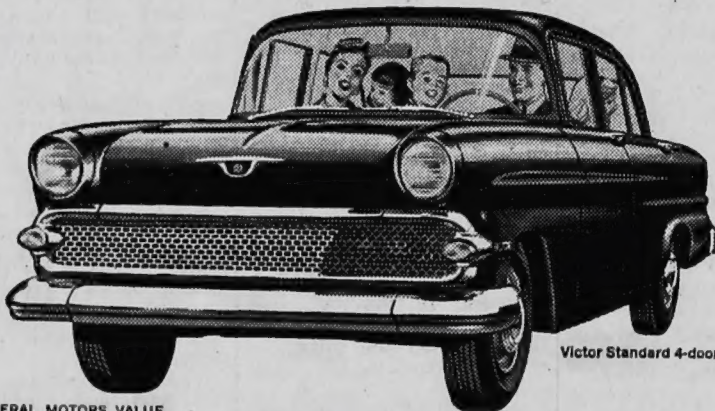

You can't help but save on the peppy 4-cylinder Vauxhall "over-square" engine. Its outstanding engineering assures you long life and trouble-free driving. With the economy carburetor you'll forget all your worries about gas consumption—you get up to 40 miles per gallon.

There are a good many people who are preparing various items to show at the fair and it is to be hoped that the frost will stay off and the fruit and vegetable section have a splendid display. The entertainment seems to be a very interesting lineup, of interest to all ages with games and stands to feed or amuse everyone. So with good weather, plan to attend Minden fair on September 10.

The recent rains have diminished the danger of serious forest fire but still everyone should have a care with fires.

SCHOOL FOR LEADERS HOLD CONFERENCE

The 27th United Church Women's Missionary Society school for leaders held its conference at Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, August 15 to 19. Over 195 delegates from the Bay of Quinte district registered. From Haliburton were Miss Betty Barnum, Mrs. Cecil Bailey and Mrs. H. J. Black.

Among the guests who gave instruction and leadership was Mrs. S. R. Collins, Angola, West Africa; Miss Frances Bonwick from the board of information and stewardship, Toronto; Rev. Catherine McKeen, secretary for junior groups; Mrs. J. H. McKinney, Brooklin past president of conference branch; Miss Netta Brownlee, dean of girls and many others.

The first evening was a "get acquainted hour" which led all to the gymnasium room for recreation, and the study theme was introduced "into all the world together." They returned to the assembly hall and Mrs. B. H. Soper of Smith Falls led in a most impressive worship service.

Mrs. F. W. Harris of Peterboro conducted the Bible study each morning.

A brief outline of the meaning of each of the Beatitudes was given and there was free discussion.

Miss Bonwick explained about our literature. She said that the mission study is planned years in advance so that leaders of all the denominations may meet together, discuss and give friendly criticism, share ideas and make decision as to what the missionary study will be and all the denominations use the same study during the same year.

Rev. E. E. Long, B.A., Ph.D., secretary of the general council and husband of Dr. Dorothy Long, immediate past president of the dominion board, addressed the group on the ecumenical aspect of the church's life. His talks gave us much wonderful food for thought on this unfamiliar word ecumenical. It means universal or catholic, a movement of which Christians are becoming conscious.

Mrs. Hugh D. Taylor, executive secretary for the overseas mission of the dominion board for the United Church of Canada, presented the theme "Into All the World Together."

There was a most interesting display of Korean handwork. The articles were manufactured by Korean women workers whom our society is supporting in Korea who sent there articles to show what can be done with the things we send them. Socks for Korean children can be knit out of many colors of yarn. Boys' jackets made from tailors' samples are really attractive and the little pieces are sewn together so neatly.

The evening with the missionaries was the climax of the school for leaders. In her introduction Mrs. M. C. Fisher, president of the Oshawa presbytery referred to a guest minister at a 50th church anniversary. After listening to all the accomplishments and great things the congregation had done through the years, he commended them heartily and then asked "Has there not been at least one person from the congregation in those 50 years who has given themselves for the church."

There are many similar congregations throughout our church today but in the Oshawa presbytery there has been more than one. This year Muriel Stevens, Reg.N., was appointed by the W.M.S.

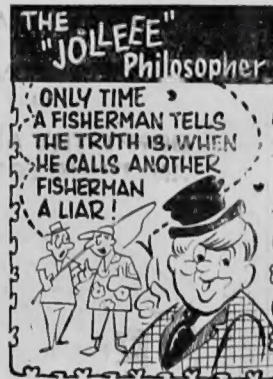

to serve in Africa as a missionary.

Miss Christina Baxter, recently retired principal of the Teachers' Training College, Indore, India, recalled many events that had happened in this very place through the years. Miss Baxter was asked at a big women's conference in India to bring to the women of Canada their message of gratitude for all that has been done in India by groups here in Canada.

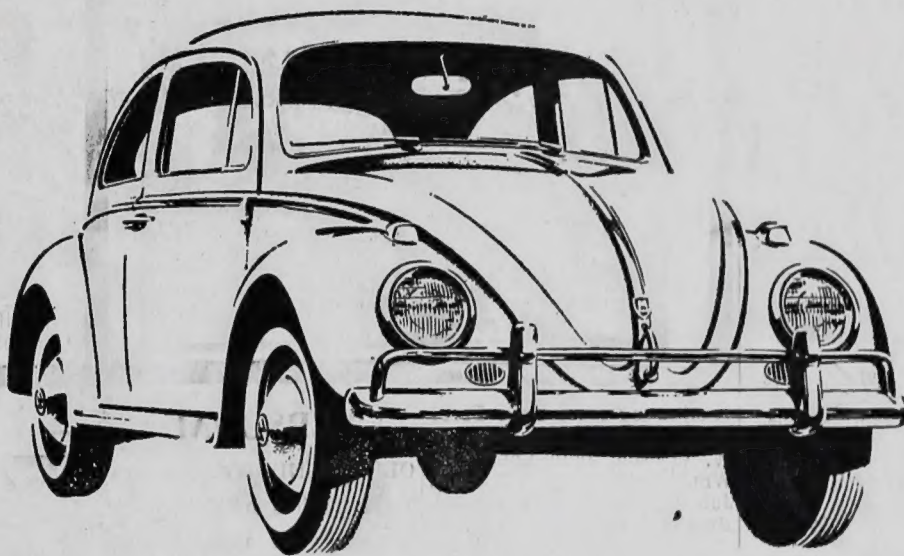

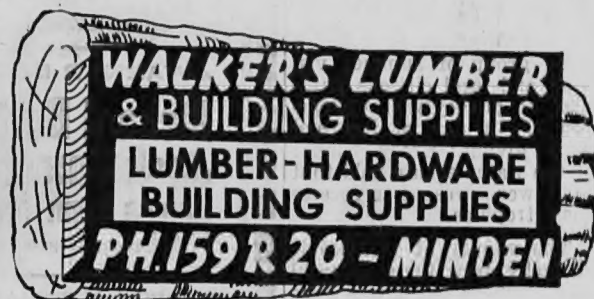

Mrs. Ralph Collins, missionary to Africa, who has been with the school all week, pronounced the benediction in English and then in Umbundu.

Each evening a worship service was conducted. The service was based on parts of St. Matthew's gospel where Jesus and His disciples experienced wonderful fellowship.

The class had charge of the closing service of worship. Miss Betty Barnum of Haliburton was leader, assisted by Frances Green of Eganville, Connie Van Tlen of Belleville and Joan Brummel, also of Belleville.

Changed!

Volkswagen's engineers make three major improvements to the World's most successful small car.

You can't tell the new VW just by looking. You have to drive it. All the changes have been made within the car, for example: More powerful engine: Engine power's up 10%. Now the Volkswagen leaps away from lights. You scoot up hills, scuttle round bends and fly down highways faster than before. And overtaking is safer because there's more reserve power in every gear.

The engine itself, although increased to 40 horse power, still retains its famous economy. A pleasant thought.

Synchronized first gear: Now you can shift down to first gear without stopping the car. At low speeds you change straight down with a flick of the wrist and zoom away. This eliminates a lot of stop-and-start driving. Four synchronized speeds is a luxury rarely found even in the more expensive cars. But to have it in a car of Volkswagen's size and price is quite amazing. The ratios of all four gears have been changed too so you can use every ounce of extra power developed by the new engine. The new VW is as nimble as a needle in traffic and more fun than a fair.

Increased luggage space: Volkswagen's luggage space is now an ample 10 cubic feet; 5 behind the back seat and 5 up front (VW's engine is in the rear of course). Now the Volkswagen goes to market and runs all the way home with your groceries under the hood. Or takes a long vacation with all kinds of luggage neatly stowed away.

The VW is constantly being improved.

Since 1948, no less than nine hundred improvements have been made to the Volkswagen. Yet it still remains basically the same car with the same styling. That's why a VW may grow old but never obsolete—and why it retains its value. The Volkswagen is an honest product. While there are other improvements in the new VW, it is Volkswagen's philosophy not to change for the sake of change but to search continually for new ways to improve a great idea. Some of these improvements in the De Luxe Volkswagen are also in the Custom model. Whichever you buy, we think you get the best car value in the world.

The new Volkswagen is a lot more fun to drive. Why not find out for yourself today at your nearest VW dealer.

and other members of the clergy.

We might state that the Rev. George D. Petrie, who came here from Windsor, has made a most favorable impression on the congregation of the United church during the comparatively short time that he has been with us. The members of the church feel that it was most fortunate when he was persuaded to assume the duties as minister of the Haliburton charge and that he will enjoy a most successful ministry here.

Everyone interested in the furtherance of the work of Christ and His Kingdom in this area is extended a most sincere invitation to be present at this induction service.
